CVG: Your Gateway to the Top Ski Destinations

With the official opening of ski season just around the corner, now is the time to start planning for winter getaways. Cincinnati customers flying Delta can connect to the country's best ski destinations with these daily nonstop flights:

- Salt Lake City, Utah – 5 daily departures
- Denver, Colorado – 4 daily departures
- Burlington, Vermont – 2 daily departures
- Portland, Oregon – 2 daily departures

Check out the Sundance Resort in Utah, Beaver Creek in Colorado, Timberline Lodge in Oregon and Vermont's Green Mountain Inn, all rated by Forbes as "The Coolest U.S. Ski Resorts."

About Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport

CVG Featured as Delta's Northern Gateway to the South

Rhythms of the South is a marketing partnership between a number of southern cities and Delta, the South's major airline. The goal of this group is to promote travel to the U.S. from Delta's international cities. In October, travel planners from around the world met in Louisville, Kentucky to visit some of the region's best attractions, including the site of the Kentucky Derby and the new Muhammad Ali Museum in downtown Louisville. CVG, as the northern gateway to the south, was a proud sponsor supporting Delta and the Southern partners.

CVG offers more than 130 daily departures to the South's major business and leisure destinations.

CVG Remains Delta's Second-Largest Hub

Changes in Delta's route system will strengthen Delta's network and enhance the hub's efficiency when they are implemented on December 1. Delta will consolidate its bank of flights at CVG, adding to the convenience that connecting passengers already enjoy. When the changes have been implemented, CVG will offer 500 daily departures to over 120 cities worldwide, remaining Delta's second largest hub and one of the top 10 hubs in the country.
