Cincinnati / Northern Kentucky International Airport
America's Most Convenient Gateway

Volume 4 Issue 1 January 2007

Carolina Coast : Top Winter Destination

Winter months are a great time to explore "off-season" destinations along the southern coastline such as Myrtle Beach and Charleston, SC. Delta offers 2 daily nonstop flights to Myrtle Beach, the "Golf Capital of the World," where mild winter temperatures bring golfers to the area's 130 courses year-round.

Delta passengers also have 3 daily nonstop flights to Charleston, whose historic charm and reputation as a city with a growing restaurant scene have made the city a "must-see" for discriminating travelers. In March and April, visitors can see 150 distinctive American homes in 11 colonial and antebellum neighborhoods at the 60th Annual Spring Festival of Houses and Gardens.

Thanks to Natalie Davis, Conference Coordinator with the National Underwriter Company in Erlanger, KY for recommending this destination for winter meetings.

Enjoy a "New York City Size" Attraction in Cincinnati USA

Visitors to Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky can enjoy one of downtown Cincinnati's newest attractions: Fountain Square's Ice Rink. The state-of-the-art rink is the same size as NYC's Rockefeller Plaza and is open daily through March. Click here for details and prices. Learn more about the new Fountain Square District, part of downtown's revitalization efforts which includes new dining options such as high-end seafood restaurant McCormick & Schmick's.
